Michigan's Wolverine, the only mascot of its kind in the nation, is unique itself. The animal is almost extinct and it has never been documented that it ever appeared in Michigan.

It is thought that Michigan was called the Wolverine state because so many of the pelts that had been trapped in Canada were shipped through the Sault Ste. Marie. In any case, the animal became the state mascot and the symbol of Michigan athletics.

Fielding H. Yost had a great passion for the Wolverine and eventually obtained not only a stuffed one, but 10 live ones that were kept in the Detroit zoo. The Wolverine is legendary for its courage, cunning, strength and ferocity, despite its lack of size.

A Salute to Les Etter

This 1971 Michigan Gridiron Guide is dedicated, and most appropriately, to Les Etter, whose professional career was working with or servicing members of the nation's press, radio and television.

Les started his career as a member of the Associated Press Bureau in Minneapolis and in 1930 became the first full-time college sports public relations director under Fritz Crisler at Minnesota. He joined Fritz at Michigan in 1944 and worked here until his retirement in 1968.

Newsmen across the nation came to know and respect this quietly efficient director of sports information at Michigan. His press box operations and football programs earned national awards. He was, and remains, a writer of considerable talent. His latest book, number seven, is a football novel, "Big Down Gamble," and is currently selling nationwide.

Les with his gracious wife, Jean, who served as his secretary, handled all the sports information servicing of Michigan with competence and, importantly, with dignity.

Michigan Helmet Goes Back to '38

Michigan's famed winged football helmet dates back to 1938 when Fritz Crisler arrived from Princeton with his penchant for detail and style.

"Michigan had a plain black helmet and we wanted to dress it up a little," Fritz recalls. "We added some color (maize and blue) and used the same basic helmet I had designed at Princeton."

There was one other consideration. Fritz thought this unique helmet could be helpful to his passers when they tried to spot their receivers downfield. There was a tendency to use different colored helmets just for receivers in those days, but I always thought that would be as helpful for the defense as for the offense," Fritz explained.

Michigan's 1971 Football Outlook

Michigan has an experienced senior class, experienced in winning. There are 15 Wolverines who are double letter winners and they have played important roles in winning 17 of 21 games over the last two seasons.

Coach Bo Schembechler now will spot a few juniors and sophs among this senior group and says, "There could be five or six teams figuring in the Big Ten title race and we should be one of them."

Michigan will have a sophomore quarterback, three highly experienced running backs, a solid interior offensive line, an abundance of receivers and another sturdy defense, led by All-American candidate Mike Taylor at linebacker.

The defense yielded an average of nine points last season as Schembechler teams over the last six seasons have given up 1.2 touchdowns per game. Here is a quick look at the Michigan team of 1971:

OFFENSIVE BACKS

OFFENSIVE LINE

RECEIVERS

DEFENSIVE LINE

LINEBACKERS

Two-year regular Mike Taylor (second only to Marty Huff in tackles with 83, five broken passes, one interception) considered by Bo as top linebacker in nation. Lettermen Tom Kee and Dana Coin, both quick, battling for other starting berth. Craig Mutch top soph prospect.

SECONDARY

Three-fourths of one of the nation's top units returns. Wolfman Frank Gusich, vastly underrated (10 tackles for losses in '70) backed up by promising soph Jeff Steger. Bruce Elliott at wide halfback and Randy Logan and Dave Elliott as short-side halfback. Tom Darden switches to safety. Good depth, speed and experience.

Specialists

PUNTING — Fritz Seyferth, Barry Dotzauer, Jeff Steger.

FG. EXT. PT. — Dana Coin

KICKOFFS — Dana Coin

KICKOFF RETURNS — Glenn Doughty, Harry Banks, Bo Rather

TOM DARDEN — Cornerback to safety. Key spot in Michigan defense. Regarded as one of the best secondary men in college football. Started at wolfman as soph.

JERRY SCHUMACHER—Reserve tight end to offensive guard. Has speed and size (224). Missed spring drills with wrist injury.

BO RATHER — One of fastest sprinters on team (4.5 in 40). Started three games at defensive half, goes to split end. Gives Michigan two quick receivers on flank.

Key Sophomores

ED SHUTTLESWORTH—Punishing runner at 235. Backup for Fritz Seyferth at fullback.

DAVE GALLAGHER—Dedicated player. Tried at several positions, but finished spring at defensive tackle. Outstanding student.

Victory Follows 'Bo' to Michigan

Glenn E. (Bo) Schembechler, only in his third season as Michigan's head coach, already is becoming something of an institution in Ann Arbor. When Bo came to Michigan he said, "We intend to win," and since that time victory has become very much a way of life for the Wolverines.

In his first season the Wolverines posted an 8-2 record, including the stunning 24-12 victory over Ohio State in the final game which gave Michigan a share of the Big Ten title and a trip to the Rose Bowl. Bo himself was voted national Coach of the Year by both his fellow coaches and the college football writers.

Bo led his team into Michigan's fifth Rose Bowl appearance but the trip to California was marred when he suffered a mild heart attack on the eve of the game. The dispirited Wolverines fell the next day to Southern California, 10-3.

Some people had doubts about Bo's status for the 1970 season but he quickly disspelled them when he attended all spring practices and returned in the fall in complete charge. The 1970 Wolverines went on to post a 9-1 record, losing only to Ohio State and giving Bo, the 13th head coach in Michigan's history, a two-year mark of 17-4. His winning percentage of .809 has only been surpassed by two Hall of Fame coaches, the legendary Fielding Yost and the great Fritz Crisler.

Schembechler (pronounced SHEM-beck-lur), 42, brought outstanding football credentials to Michigan. In his six seasons as head football coach at Miami of Ohio his teams posted a 40-17-3 overall record, and a 27-8-1 record in the Mid-American Conference. His teams won two MAC co-championships, finished second twice and tied for third once. He has never coached a losing team.

Schembechler was the fourth straight head coach at Miami to take over a Big Ten team. Woody Hayes (Ohio State), Ara Parseghian (Northwestern), and John Pont (Indiana) had coached Miami teams since 1949. He replaced Bump Elliott, now Iowa's Athletic Director, as head coach at Michigan and is only the fourth head coach of the Wolverines since Fritz Crisler was appointed in 1938.

Voted MAC Coach of the Year in 1965 and Ohio Coach of the Year in 1966, Bo engineered upsets of Northwestern in 1964 (28-27) and Indiana in 1966 (20-10).

Schembechler, who graduated from Miami in 1951 and received a master's degree in education from Ohio State in 1952, has an extensive coaching background. He started as a graduate assistant under Hayes at Ohio State in 1951, then served two years in the Army, coaching both the football and baseball teams at Camp Rucker in Alabama. He was a line coach at Presbyterian College in 1954, a line coach at Bowling Green in 1955, and joined Parseghian's staff at Northwestern in 1956. Schembechler rejoined Hayes at Ohio State in 1958 and served five seasons as line coach before taking over the head job at Miami in 1963.

The former Barberton, Ohio Prep all-starter was an offensive tackle at Miami for three years, playing under George Blackburn and Hayes. He also was an outstanding lefthander pitcher for Miami. He was a teammate and roommate of Indiana's John Pont on the 1950 Miami football team.

Bo and his wife, Millie, have four children: Chip, 15, Geoffrey, 13, Matthew, 12, and Glenn E. III, almost two years old.

Michigan's Coaching Staff

JIM YOUNG

JIM YOUNG, Defensive Coordinator

Jim Young, 36, defensive coordinator and coach of the linebackers, has a sound football background that includes playing on championship collegiate teams in two different conferences. Young began his career as a member of the 1954 Ohio State squad which won the national championship and the Rose Bowl. He transferred to Bowling Green the next fall and was on its 1956 Mid-American title team.

He graduated in 1957 from Bowling Green and remained as an assistant under Doyt Perry while earning a master's degree. He moved to Findlay (Ohio) College as an assistant football coach and head coach of wrestling and track in 1958-59, returning to Bowling Green as head wrestling coach and freshman football coach in 1959.

At Findlay, his wrestling team was undefeated in 11 starts and his track team won the Mid-Ohio League crown after an 8-2 season. His 1959 Bowling Green freshman football team won three of five and his varsity wrestlers had an 11-0 season and the Mid-American championship.

In 1960. Young moved to Lima Shawnee High School as head football coach where his teams captured two consecutive Western Buckeye League championships, winning 28, losing 10 and tying 2 over four seasons. At one time they won 23 straight, scoring 448 points in 1963.

Young joined 'Bo' Schembechler's staff at Miami in 1964, yielding his Shawnee post to another Michigan assistant, Larry Smith. Young coached under Schembechler for five years at Miami.

Young was called on to take over the duties of head coach when Bo Schembechler was hospitalized the morning of the Rose Bowl.

Jim and his wife, Jane of Van Wert, O., have four daughters: Laura, 12, Elaine, 10, Joan, 9, and Colleen, 5.

JERRY HANLON, Offensive Line

JERRY HANLON

Jerry Hanlon coaches Michigan's offensive line. Hanlon, from North Bend, Ohio was a teammate of Dick Hunter's during the 1953-55 seasons at Miami. He played halfback on the Redskin teams that won two Mid-American Conference titles. His college coach was Ara Parseghian.

As a player, Hanlon's college teams achieved a 24-2-1 record, while his teams at Taylor High School were 25-7-1.

Following graduation from Miami, Hanlon returned to Taylor for a year as assistant football coach, then moved to Canton Catholic High where he assisted in football four years and was head basketball coach his final year.

His next position was at Youngstown Ursuline, where he rebuilt football and produced a 19-5-3 record in three campaigns. Hanlon spent one year at Cleveland St. Edwards, where he had a 7-3 football season before joining another Miami graduate, John McVay, at the University of Dayton in 1965. The following year he joined Schembechler.

Hanlon, 40, is married to the former Anne Hatfield, a native of Norma, Tennessee. The couple has two sons, Scott, 15, and Mickey, 11, and a daughter, Kelly Ann, 3.

DICK HUNTER, Defensive Backfield

DICK HUNTER

Dick Hunter, 37, Michigan's defensive backfield coach, has an impressive list of former pupils. Hunter helped develop George Izo (Notre Dame and Washington Redskin QB) while an assistant high school coach at Barberton, Ohio; and worked with Norm Snead (Philadelphia Eagles) during a two-year coaching tour (1960-62) at Wake Forest.

Two years ago, in his first season at Michigan, Hunter worked with All-American safety Tom Curtis and last year with All-Big Ten defensive back Tom Darden.

Hunter, who served with Bo Schembechler at Miami for two seasons, was a star there as a player in the mid-1950s. He passed for the only score in the Redskins' 6-0 victory over Indiana in 1954, the first time a Miami team had beaten a Big Ten opponent. His club finished the year with an 8-1 record and a Mid-American Conference championship. Hunter's 39.5 punting average is still a school record. He was an all-conference quarterback and the team's MVP in 1954.

Hunter's stint at Barberton followed his graduation from Miami in 1955. He moved to Denison University in 1958, where he was backfield coach for two years. He then joined the Wake Forest coaching staff for two years.

Hunter, a low handicap golfer, returned to Ohio in 1963 as an assistant at Wadsworth High. Two years later he became head coach and directed his team to its first undefeated season and first undisputed Chippewa League title in 1966. Included in the perfect ten-game season were seven shutouts.

His wife is the former Marie Gujin of Barberton. The couple has five children — two boys, Dick 15, and Billy 8, and three girls, Kathleen 13, Teresa, 11, and Marie, 7.

GEORGE MANS

GEORGE MANS, Offensive Ends

George Mans, one of the most respected assistant coaches in the Big Ten, starts his sixth season on the Michigan staff. He is the offensive end coach.

Mans, who has helped develop a series of outstanding pass receivers at Michigan (Jack Clancy, Jim Berline, Jim Mandich), was a three-year letterwinner at Michigan, playing offensive and defensive end. He was the team captain for Bump Elliott in 1961.

The 31-year-old Mans has directed Michigan's recruiting efforts in the Detroit area which has supplied a growing list of talented athletes. Mans was born in Trenton where he was an all-state football player.

He played for the Wolverines during the 1959-60-61 seasons and then entered the automotive field with General Motors until 1964. He served a year as an assistant coach at Michigan Tech and two years at Eastern Michigan before joining Elliott's staff at Michigan in 1966.

Mans is married to the former Carol Grimes of Piqua, Ohio and has a one-year-old daughter, Kristin.

FRANK MALONEY, Defensive Line

FRANK MALONEY

Frank Maloney, 30, defensive line coach, is in his fourth season as a Michigan staff member.

A Michigan letterman in football, he returned to Michigan in the spring of 1968 and coached the offensive line under Bump Elliott.

Maloney attended high school at Mount Carmel in Chicago where he was a center and linebacker. In 1957, he was voted the most valuable player on the team as well as receiving All-Catholic and All-City honors. In his senior year he was chosen as a recipient for a Mayor Daley Youth Foundation Scholarship to the college of his choice.

Maloney played guard and linebacker on Elliott's 1959-60-61 teams. He earned the Fielding H. Yost Award for proficiency in scholarship and athletics in 1961.

Maloney studied law for one year at Northwestern, then in 1963 was named head football coach at Mount Carmel High. His five-year record in the tough Chicago Catholic League was 31-12-1. In 1964, Mount Carmel won the South Section title and was runner-up in the Catholic League. In 1967, his team won the City Championship of Chicago by defeating Dunbar High 37-0 before 60,000 fans at Soldiers Field. Three of Maloney's teams reached the playoffs.

Maloney was chosen "Coach of the Year" for the South Side of Chicago in 1964 and was the "Prep Coach of the Year" for the Chicago area in 1967. Maloney married the former Kathy Schumacher of Chicago June 6, 1970.

LARRY SMITH, Interior Line

LARRY SMITH

Larry Smith, 31, the interior line coach for Michigan, is another import from the Miami staff. Smith is a 1962 graduate of Bowling Green. The Van Wert, Ohio native attended the U.S. Military Academy at West Point before transferring to BG. He was a two-way end at Bowling Green and co-captain of the 1961 Mid-American conference champions.

Before joining the Miami staff, Smith was head coach at Lima Shawnee High School for three years, posting a 21-8-1 record and winning two Western Buckeye League titles, after taking over from Jim Young. His 1964 team was 8-2, the 1965 team was 3-6-1 and the 1966 team bounced back to post a 10-0 record. Shawnee led the State of Ohio in defense that year, permitting only six points all season.

Smith's coaching colleague, Dick Hunter, also had an undefeated Ohio high school team in 1966 that permitted opponents to score in but three games.

Smith is married to the former Cheryl Neuenschwander of Lima and has a daughter, Alicia Renee, who will be one year old in November.

CHUCK STOBART, Offensive Backfield

CHUCK STOBART

Charles (Chuck) Stobart, 38, Michigan's offensive backfield coach, was the starting quarterback at Ohio University for most of his three years, and a standout infielder for two seasons. He has both a bachelor's degree in education and masters in school administration from his alma mater. He was a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, national men's leadership honorary, and Kappa Delta Pi, education honorary. Senior athlete of year 1958.

In 1959, Stobart coached Berne Union High School to an 8-1 record, and moved on to Gallipolis High School where his team was 9-0 and won the Southeastern Ohio Championship in 1960. He was named the district coach of the year.

From 1961 through 1964, Stobart was football coach at Mt. Vernon, where his teams developed rapidly, winning 17 of their last 18 games following two losing seasons. His 1963 team was unbeaten and untied in nine games, and ranked ninth in the state poll. He helped coach the south team in the 1964 Ohio North-South All-Star game.

Stobart moved into the college coaching ranks in 1965 as offensive backfield and head baseball coach at Marshall. He took a similar position at the University of Cincinnati in 1966, before joining 'Bo' Schembechler at Miami in 1967.

His wife is the former Diana June Chancey, a native of Ripley, West Va. The couple has three children, Janna, 14, David, 11, and Greg, 7.

Wolverines In Review

Michigan 20, Arizona 9

September 19 Ann Arbor Attendance 80,386

The Wolverines opened the 1970 season hosting the Wildcats from Arizona, marking the first meeting between Michigan and a Western Athletic Conference school.

Before a Band Day crowd junior placekicker Dana Coin split the uprights with a 42-yard field goal, the longest in Wolverine history, to put Michigan in front, 3-0, midway through the first quarter. The Wolverines promptly moved 63 yards in eight plays to score the season's first touchdown, Billy Taylor getting the six points on a 29-yard screen pass from Don Moorhead.

Michigan's offense bogged down and early in the fourth quarter Arizona's Steve Hurley kicked his third field goal, cutting the Wolverine lead to one at 10-9. At that point the tenacious Michigan defense provided the spark to set up Coin's second field goal and linebacker Marty Huff picked off another aerial to set up Lance Scheffler's clinching touchdown.

Michigan 17, Washington 3

September 26 Seattle Attendance 57,500

For the second consecutive week the Michigan defense turned in a spectacular performance, this time before a sellout crowd in Husky Stadium. Faced with an aerial assault from sophomore sensation Sonny Sixkiller, who was to lead the nation in passing, the Wolverines limited Washington to a lone field goal while intercepting three passes.

But the Michigan offense was once again sluggish and the best the Wolverines could manage was a 3-3 tie midway through the third quarter. Once again the defense rose to make the big play when Washington had a foot to go for a first down on the Huskies' 49. The Wolverines stopped Sixkiller on a sneak and then duplicated the feat on the fourth down.

Reserve back Preston Henry maintained the momentum, leading the touchdown drive and going the final eight yards himself. Henry was to rush for 113 yards in the second half and added a second touchdown on a 30-yard burst. But the season's second victory truly belonged to the defense, led by Marty Huff's two interceptions and cornerback Tom Darden's interception and 12 tackles.

Michigan 14, Texas A&M 10

October 3 Ann Arbor Attendance 71,732

Michigan came from behind to win for the second straight week, moving in for the winning score with just three minutes left to play.

The offensive problems of the first two games were once again evident but a key change was made in the second half when Billy Taylor went from fullback to tailback, his natural position, and Fritz Seyferth moved into the fullback post. Seyferth triggered the Wolverine's winning touchdown drive by gaining 45 of the 62 yards and then throwing the key block for Don Moorhead as the big quarterback crashed into the end zone from seven yards out.

The defense once again was brilliant, even though it allowed a touchdown for the first time during the season. The Aggies took a quick 10-0 lead but the Wolverine defenders shut them out for the remainder of the game.

A big break, the recovery of an Aggie fumble of a punt, set up the first Michigan touchdown and then the Michigan defense, led by tackle Pete Newell's 15 solo hits, continually regained the ball until the Wolverines could get the winning six pointer.

Michigan 29, Purdue 0

October 10 Lafayette Attendance 69,022

Michigan's offense finally exploded as had been expected during the pre-season, but not until the fourth quarter. Entering the final 15 minutes the Wolverines held a slim 6-0 lead, then ripped off 23 points to bury Purdue, 29-0.

The Michigan defense was once again brilliant, a style of play that was becoming ordinary for them. The defenders racked up their first shutout of the year and broke Purdue's 13 game home field winning streak. The Wolverines picked off three passes, setting up two touchdowns, and limited the Boilermakers to just 36 yards rushing.

Quarterback Don Moorhead fired two touchdown passes for the offense and tailback Billy Taylor, running to his 1969 form, rushed for 89 yards and crossed the goal line once. Preston Henry also scored on the ground as the Wolverines untracked the running game to gain 221 yards. The passing game also improved as Glenn Doughty moved from tailback to wingback and proved to be a dangerous receiver.

The opening game of the Big Ten season had been a key one and Michigan put its game together just in time, as the big grudge game with Michigan State was next on the agenda.

Michigan 34, Michigan State 20

October 17 Ann Arbor Attendance 103,580

Before the second largest crowd ever to see a regular season college football game Michigan avenged its 1969 defeat to Michigan State by dropping the Spartans, 34-20.

It wasn't easy, though, as Michigan State came out roaring and immediately drove 74 yards for a touchdown. But Michigan wasn't to be denied as Billy Taylor ran 26 yards for a tying score and then scored again at the end of the half to send the teams off deadlocked, 13-13.

Michigan then locked the game away in the third quarter as Taylor scored for the third time, the first Wolverine to do so against State since Bob Chappuis in 1947, and Don Moorhead fired an eight-yard touchdown pass to Fritz Seyferth. Glenn Doughty slammed into the end zone on the first play of the fourth quarter for an insurance touchdown and Michigan had its fifth straight win of the season.

Michigan 39, Minnesota 13

October 24 Ann Arbor Attendance 83,496

In a contest that was almost a carbon of the 1969 game which started the Wolverines toward the Rose Bowl, Michigan topped Minnesota, 39-13. Billy Taylor duplicated his running of the year before by gaining 151 yards and scoring once. Fritz Seyferth exploded on the scoring scene, just as Taylor had done in 1969, by crossing the goal line four times.

Taylor opened the scoring by breaking tackles on a 17-yard draw play and Seyferth then followed with his first two touchdowns. Seyferth followed up with two more scoring plunges in the second half and Lance Scheffler added the final score. The Wolverines rolled up a total of 414 yards on the ground and quarterback Don Moorhead added 104 more through the air as Michigan put on its greatest offensive shows of the season while winning its sixth straight game, the best start since 1955.

Michigan 29, Wisconsin 15

October 31 Madison Attendance 72,389

Michigan's All-Big Ten passing combination of Don Moorhead and Paul Staroba combined to shoot down Wisconsin, 29-15, as Moorhead fired 11 completions in 22 attempts for 223 yards with Staroba catching six for 178 yards and a touchdown.

Moorhead started the Wolverine rolling early in the first quarter after Jim Betts recovered a Badger fumble, hitting Fritz Seyferth with an eight-yard scoring pass. Moorhead kept throwing in the second quarter as the Wolverines struck quickly. He combined with Staroba on a sensational 70-yard pass play that carried to the Wisconsin three and set up Seyferth's second touchcdown. The Wolverines came right back on a 76-yard drive with Preston Henry scoring and Staroba catching a two-point conversion pass.

But the tide began to turn at the end of the first half when the Badgers got on the board with seconds remaining to make the score 21-6. When Danny Crooks took off on an 87-yard punt return in the second half and the Badgers added a field goal, the score was cut to 21-15 and Wisconsin appeared to have the momentum for an upset.

Moorhead and Staroba were prepared for the emergency, though, combining on a 24-yard touchdown play that safely put the game away.

Michigan 42, Illinois 0

November 7 Ann Arbor Attendance 70,781

The Wolverines had their most balanced offense of the season as they overpowered a young Illinois team, 42-0. Michigan rushers charged for 259 yards while Don Moorhead and his backup, Jack McBride, passed for another 166.

Wingback Glenn Doughty put on the finest individual performance as he ran for 40 yards, caught five passes for 81 yards and scored the first two Michigan touchdowns. Almost all of the Wolverine runners got in on the show as Lance Scheffler led the team with only 75 yards. Scheffler, starting in place of the slightly injured Taylor, also scored once. Taylor returned to action himself late in the first half and got 66 yards and two touchdowns while seeing limited duty.

The defense displayed its usual form as the season's second shutout was put on the board. The Illini could manage only eight first downs as the Wolverines shut them out for the 14th straight quarter, dating back to 1968.

Michigan 55, Iowa 0

November 14 Ann Arbor Attendance 66,189

The Wolverines kept gathering momentum as they totally crushed Iowa, 55-0, in an awesmoe display of football. Leading 35-0 at halftime, Michigan played its starters less than half the contest.

Tailback Billy Taylor had his greatest day of the season, rolling up 189 yards and scoring twice. As a team Michigan had 468 yards rushing and 561 yards in total offense. About the only mistake made on offense all day was Dana Coin's miss of the eighth, and final, extra point of the afternoon.

The defense continued its scoreless streak, yielding only six first downs and 122 yards. Iowa never crossed midfield until the final minute. The defenders also got their first score of the year when Tom Darden pounced on an Iowa fumble in the end zone.

The victory was Michigan's ninth straight and all that remained was the titanic struggle with a similarly unbeaten Ohio State for the Big Ten title.

Ohio State 20, Michigan 9

November 21 Columbus Attendance 87,331

With the Big Ten championship on the line, Michigan couldn't duplicate its 1969 performance against Ohio State as the fired-up Buckeyes roared out of the lockerroom intent on victory. Still, the Bucks did not find the victory an easy one.

Ohio State scored first when Fred Schram kicked a 28-yard field goal. The three-pointer was set up when the opening kickoff was fumbled, an omen for what was to come.

The Wolverines retaliated in the second quarter on Dana Coin's 31-yard field goal following Jim Betts' interception.

Bo Schembechler said all week that breaks would decide the game and the second big break for Ohio came late in the first half. Paul Staraboa, the Big Ten's leading punter and Michigan record-holder, rocked a 73-yard kick but the play was called back because of a face mask penalty. The penalty enabled the Bucks to get good field position on the following kick and they used it to score the afternoon's first touchdown, a 26-yard pass from Rex Kern to Bruce Jankowski.

Don Moorhead fired a touchdown pass to Staroba in the third quarter but the extra point was blocked, leaving Ohio State in the lead, 10-9. The Buckeyes added a field goal but the game had turned into a defensive struggle. One final break was needed for Ohio to put the game away and it came in the fourth quarter.

Stan White intercepted a Moorhead pass deep in Michigan territory, returning it to the nine. Three plays later Leo Hayden romped into the end zone and the Bucks were Big Ten Champs.

For the Wolverines it was the finish of a 9-1 season which saw Moorhead and Staroba crush Michigan records while the offense showed balance and potency. The defense was even more superb, allowing only 90 points and shutting out three opponents. The team eventually finished ranked number nine and for the seniors it culminated a three-year career in which they won 25 games and lost only six.

Michigan Records

Michigan's football records remained relatively stable following the 1970 season, but quarterback Don Moorhead and punter Paul Staroba did manage to make some important changes.

Moorhead, despite being a starting quarterback for just two seasons, cracked several career passing and total offense records. The South Haven slinger attempted 425 passes (old mark 389 by Dennis Brown), completed a record of 200 passes (old mark 194 by Brown), gained 2540 yards in the air (old mark 2518 by Brown), was involved in more plays passing and rushing with 708 (old total offense mark 652 by Brown), and gained more total yards 3641 (old record set by Bob Chappuis with 3487), than any player in Michigan history.

Staroba from Flint punted 54 times for an average of 41.5 to set a new school team mark.

Billy Taylor stamped himself as a major threat for most of the Michigan rushing records as he moved behind All-American Ron Johnson in single season rushing attempts and total yards and jumped among the top five all-time Michigan runners in career attempts and yardage. Taylor has 1775 yards to rank behind Johnson (2440), Tom Harmon and Bob Westfall.

As a team, Michigan led the Big Ten in nine categories on average: Points 33.9, fewest opponent points 9.7, first downs 22.9, net yards gained 411.7, fewest rushing yards allowed (tie with OSU) 111.3, yards per play 5.1, lowest interception 0.4, and highest completion average .511 and punting average 41.8.

Meet Michigan's President — Robben Fleming

Robben W. Fleming is the ninth president of The University of Michigan. He assumed the presidency on Jan. 1, 1968 after four years as chancellor of the Madison campus of the University of Wisconsin.

Since he was an active participant in athletics both in high school and in college, he has a real interest in intercollegiate athletics. He firmly believes that competitive sports have a real part to play in the collegiate scene.

President Fleming believes that the discipline imposed by working together on athletic teams carries over into other activities as well as teaching the value of teamwork.

In high school at Paw Paw, Ill., he played football, basketball and baseball. A knee injury sustained in his last year in high school kept him out of football at Beloit College in Wisconsin. He did win three letters at Beloit in basketball (he played guard) and two letters in track where he ran the 100-yard dash and was on the 440-yard relay team.

He received an A.B. degree from Beloit in 1938 and a law degree from the University of Wisconsin in 1941. After Army service, he headed industrial relations centers at Wisconsin and the University of Illinois, taught law at Illinois and then moved back to Madison to become chancellor of the University of Wisconsin campus there. Four years later, he was president of The University of Michigan.

Meet Michigan's Don Canham

Donald B. Canham charged into the challenge of directing Michigan's broad athletic program three years ago with a special verve and an obvious impatience with time.

Since his appointment early in 1968 as Michigan's fifth director of athletics, Canham has probed virtually every corner of athletic administration and pioneered new territory. He has moved with a boldness and decisiveness that now characterizes his administration, just as the senatorial brilliance of a Fritz Crisler or the flamboyancy and farsightedness of a Fielding H. Yost stamped earlier areas in Michigan athletics.

Growing financial problems were the immediate concern of the former track coach. So he launched a mammoth ticket drive that helped Michigan to three straight years of increased football attendance. His promotions today put coupon applications in 2.5 million homes, unprecedented in the selling of college football tickets.

Canham also invited Michigan's vast alumni to "join the team" and they responded with scholarship donations by the hundreds.

Concurrently came the modernization of Michigan's sturdy athletic plant. Crisler had tackled the problem successfully three decades before, but now a facelifting was in order.

While some debated the installation of one artificial grass surface, Canham directed that two—one in Michigan Stadium and a second on a practice field be installed. In addition to the obvious benefits for the football team, the lighted practice field, used extensively for club sports, opened up other areas for nonvarsity sports on Ferry Field.

New, twin scoreboards were added to Michigan Stadium, locker-room and training areas were modernized, a fence and electrical scoreboard installed for baseball and a general upgrading given

DONALD B. CANHAM

Yost Fieldhouse and the administrative offices.

The latest addition is a $360,000 service building for football and physical education classrooms.

Canham, 52, brought special credentials to his job. From Oak Park, Ill., he captained Michigan's track team and was a four-time Big Ten high jump champion, also winning the NCAA title. Following his 1941 graduation, Canham entered the Army Air Corps as a private and emerged 42 months later as a captain.

He served two years as Michigan's assistant track coach, then took over the head job with considerable success. His teams won 80 per cent of their meets and 12 Big Ten titles.

Canham also found time to start a small sports equipment mfg. company that grew so successfully that it was placed in an irrevocable trust when he was appointed athletic director.

Michigan's athletic department has been a whirlwind of activity ever since. Coaching and administrative changes now total 30 in three years, new positions were created and such events as the NCAA gymnastics championships and state high school basketball finals were brought to Michigan.

Cavender Takes Over 'M' Band

The 1971 football season will bring with it many new changes for the famed University of Michigan Marching Band. Foremost among these will be a change in conductors after a period of 36 years with the retirement of William D. Revelli.

Professor George Cavender, former assistant conductor of bands for 19 years, has been appointed "Coordinator of Bands" for 1971-72 at Michigan and will assume complete charge of the Michigan Marching Band this fall season.

Professor Cavender's work, as assistant conductor, did much to raise the Michigan Marching Band to a position of foremost eminence among the bands of the nation. Active as a marching band clinician across the United States, he has, along with marching band arranger Jerry Bilik, co-authored several texts and numerous shows for marching bands which have received national acceptance. Unique is his ability to work very successfully in both the concert and marching band fields.

September 18th, when Michigan meets Virginia, marks the date of Michigan's 23rd Annual Band Day with bands gathered together from all parts of Michigan for one of the nations great half-time extravaganzas.

The Indiana game on October 30th will be the occasion of the Band Alumni reunion, so appropriately called "The Blast From The Past", and all former Michigan Bandsmen are urged to make their plans to attend.

Prof. George Cavender
'M' Band Director

The Michigan Marching Band with approximately 200 members, is traditionally an all male organization and counts men from almost every school and college on campus in its membership. One of the most active student organizations on campus, membership in the marching band is a prized accomplishment.

The Marching Band is one of seven bands on the Michigan campus whose combined memberships number approximately 500. These include the internationally famous Symphony Band, the Wind Ensemble, Concert Band, Varsity Band, Wolverine Band and the Jazz Band.

New also this season with the Marching Band will be Mr. John Larkin, appointed visiting assistant Professor of Music in the School of Music. He will assist Cavender with the Marching Band as well as teach on the staff of the School of Music. A former member of the Michigan Marching Band, Larkin comes to Michigan from Austin Peay University in Clarksville, Tenn., where he assisted with the marching band for several years.

The John F. Maulbetsch Award is given to the freshman football candidate after spring practice on the basis of desire, character, capacity for leadership and future success both on and off the gridiron. It was established by Frederick C. Matthaei in 1954 in honor of the late John F. Maulbetsch, All-America halfback on the 1914 team. The 1971 winner was Dave Gallagher, a defensive tackle from Piqua, O. Past winners on the 1969 team are Tom Coyle (1970) and Glenn Doughty (1969).

Meyer Morton Award

The Meyer Morton Award is given to the football player who shows greatest development and most promise as a result of the annual spring practice. The award is given in honor of the late Meyer Morton, noted Big Ten official. The 1970 winner is Guy Murdock, senior center from Barrington, Ill. Last year's winner was safety Jim Betts.

Matthaei Award

The Frederick C. Matthaei Award is given to the junior-to-be gridder who has displayed leadership, drive, and achievement on the athletic field and in the classroom. The award was established by Frederick C. Matthaei in 1968 and the first recipient was defensive safety Tom Curtis. The 1970 winner is Tom Kee, junior linebacker from Wheaton, Ill.
